Reuben Gottlieb is an attorney, certified public accountant, and has earned a master's degree in forensic accounting. He has represented private equity firms, public companies, and their portfolio companies in cases involving failed mergers, fraud, contractual disputes, including cases in the Delaware Chancery Court. Prior to joining MSG, Reuben worked as a corporate governance & litigation associate at Brown Rudnick LLP, Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann LLP, and Young Conaway Stargatt & Taylor LLP. He was as a health law and policy fellow at Brooklyn Law School and as a judicial intern for the Honorable James d'Auguste of the New York State Supreme Court, Civil Division. In his free time, he enjoys running in Central Park and spending quality time with his wife, Alyssa, and son, Levi.
